AMERICANS IN SIBERIA.

WASHINGTON, January 12.
According to an official announcement American troops in Siberia will not be withdrawn until the Czech-Slovak soldiers there have been repatriated. It will be several months before the Czech-Slovak troops can leave via Vladivostok.

THE KEEPER OF THE GATE.

WHEAT OF TURKEY.

It is explained in British delegation circles that Mr. Lloyd George's statement as regards Turkey that there must be a new keeper of the gate, should be interpreted literally as referring only to guardianship and control of the gates of Turkey. The question as to what shall be done with the Turks and what power shall be asked to have the mandate is still in suspense.

WAR CRIMINALS.

BRITISH DELEGATION IN PARIS.

Lord Birkenhead, the Lord-Chancellor and the Attorney General had a conference with their French, Italian and Belgian colleagues for the purpose of framing a list of war criminals whose surrender will be demanded. The subject is difficult owing to the necessity of sifting conflicting evidence and is delicate because no loophole must be given Germany to complain of injustice. The British delegation may remain in Paris a fortnight.

ALLIED WARSHIPS AT ODESSA.

Six Allied warships have arrived in Odessa and their presence has reassured the population. It is probable that the town will be defended if the Bolsheviks attack.

GERMAN CHARGE D'AFFAIRES.

It is understood in Hamburg that Senator Staher will be the first German charge d'affaires in London but formal application thereat has not yet been made.

EXTRAORDINARY CASE.

Before Mr. N. L. Smith this morning, a Chinese was charged with the theft of a quantity of jewellery valued at $600, from a house in Peel Street.

Sergt. Field said that the complainant was a well-to-do Chinese living in Peel Street. The defendant was the complainant's wife's sweet heart and was in the habit of visiting her during his (the complainant's) absence from home. A few days ago, he visited the woman as usual, and whilst she sat in the sitting room doing her hair, he was alleged to have gone into her room alone. After a short absence, he returned to the sitting room and sat and talked with the woman and ultimately took his leave and departed. After he was gone, the woman discovered the loss of her jewellery and laid information with the Police against her lover. The Police made enquiries and succeeded in finding the defendant who gave them information which led to the recovery of a diamond ring, which the defendant had pawned for $270. The other pieces of jewellery have not yet been recovered. The Sergeant went on to say that as a result of the theft, the complainant discovered his wife's unfaithfulness to him and they had a quarrel, after which the woman left her husband's house and went to Canton. It is rumoured that she has since returned to Hongkong, and the sergeant wanted a remand in order to try and find the woman, whose evidence was necessary, if a case was to be made out against the defendant.

His Worship granted a week's remand, fixing bail in the sum of $500.

ATTEMPTED SUICIDE.

A Chinese was this morning charged before Mr. J. R. Wood with attempting to commit suicide. He told his Worship that he had been a member of the Chinese Labour Corps, and had served three years in France. He arrived here on Saturday and had squandered all his money in gambling. He had had no food for four full days and thought that it was better to end all his misery by taking his own life. Inspector Macdonald said that whilst on duty in Park Road at about 7 o'clock this morning, a Chinese heard a rustle in the bushes, and going near to investigate, saw the defendant sitting on the bough of a tree with a piece of rope tied round his neck. He was just in the act of slipping from the bough into space, when the constable came on the scene and persuaded him to climb down from the tree.

His Worship remanded the case for a week.

FIRE IN CONNAUGHT ROAD.

A fire broke out this morning shortly after 11 o'clock, on the top floor of No. 53, Connaught Road and resulted in the gutting of three floors. The Brigade with motors and the boat, were quickly on the scene and the operations were directed by Chief Officer Lane and the Captain Superintendent of Police. The fire had caught a good hold on the top floor and efforts were concentrated upon confining the conflagration to the one block. Later the second and first floors became ignited and were practically gutted. After about an hour's work the blaze was got under control. The cause of the outbreak is at present unknown.

One of the floors is occupied as a dwelling by the proprietors of Messrs. Harry Wicking & Co., and the other by the Kwang Sang firm of ship chandlers. It is impossible at present to state the damage.

At four o'clock this morning a fire broke out in No. 40, Queen's Road East, a medicine shop. The fire started on the first floor and soon spread to the second floor. The Fire Brigade arrived and were able to confine the outbreak to these limits. It is thought the damage will be very slight.

PICKPOCKET CAUGHT.

A small Chinese boy was this morning charged before Mr. N. L. Smith with picking the pocket of Mrs. Botelho of No. 6 Hart Avenue, Kowloon, in Queen's Road Central yesterday afternoon and stealing a purse.

Evidence was given to the effect that Mrs. Botelho caught the boy putting his hand in her coat pocket and extracting the purse. She turned round to grab him, but the young rogue ran away. A Mr. Silva, a friend of Mrs. Botelho, who happened to pass by at the time, was appealed to and he gave chase and caught the boy and handed him over to the Police. The purse was recovered.

The Police proved a previous conviction against the accused and he was sentenced to one month's hard labour and 12 strokes with a rattan.

HAYES REVIEW.

PARIS, January 12th.
A Hayes message stated—
France yesterday proceeded to elect 240 Senators to replace the two categories of members whose mandates have expired. The French Senate consists of 344 members, one-third of whom are renewable every third year. The classes to be renewed were those whose mandates normally expired in January 1915, but were extended owing to the war, and those whose mandates expired in 1913. Then there were a few vacancies caused by the death of members. The Senators are not chosen by popular vote, but by electoral colleges. Each Department is composed of delegates chosen by the Municipal Council in each commune in proportion to the population, and of Deputies, Councillors-General and District Councillors.

No political change results from the vote. The Socialist Party presented many candidates, but only two are elected. M. Clemenceau was not a candidate. Nearly all the names of well-known political names have been returned, among them M. Antonin Dubost, President of the Senate (since 1906).

A somewhat peculiar position is created by the unanimous election of M. Poincare as Senator for the Meuse Department, for M. Poincare is still President of the Republic until February 17th. M. Poincare, the Minister of Foreign Affairs, has been re-elected by a large majority by the Meuse Department, also M. Poincare, the Minister of the Interior, and M. Jeanneney, the Under-Secretary of State. The Ministers formerly not members of the Upper Chamber now elected are M. Clemenceau, the Minister of Transport, M. Noulens, the Minister of Agriculture, and M. Henri Roy, the Food Controller. Other notable elections are those of Canon Collin, the well-known Lorraine ecclesiastical signatory and director of the newspaper Lorraine, of Metz, General Hirschauer, Jonart, General Tausch, M. Ribot, M. Charles Dupuy (the two last former Premiers), M. Paul Dapuy, a son of the former Parisien director, and M. de Serres, a former Minister of Foreign Affairs.

DESOLATE PETROGRAD.

LONDON, January 8th.
Professor Zeidler, the President of the Russian Red Cross Society, investigated the condition of Petrograd. He declares that, owing to the want of fuel, the capital is becoming a desert. A terrible famine reigns in the city. If the unfortunate population had not already accustomed themselves to lead on what people in normal circumstances never eat the inhabitants would, literally, be foodless. The water supply has stopped owing to the shortage of fuel, and the inhabitants draw water from the Neva or the canals. Epidemics are widespread, including spotted typhus and Spanish influenza with various complications. There are no medicines whatever. Only four hospitals are open. The authorities are powerless to guard the public safety. Gangs of robbers prevail in the deserted quarters of the city. "The only hope of the wretched inhabitants," says the Professor, "is that death may put an end to their sufferings. They no longer resist the violence of the Bolsheviks nor do they blame other nations for not saving them from the torments. They cherish no more hopes of being saved, but no more hope in what the Spring may bring, but wait only for death to deliver them."

GREAT MEXICAN DISASTER.

MEXICO, City, January 9th.
Fresh earthquakes occurred in the north-west of Vera Cruz. Eight villages were overwhelmed. An immense lake is now stretching over the devastated area. A new crater has opened in the volcano Orizaba (near the town, Orizaba, 17,360 feet high), where a hill has split open, and sulphur, fire and lava are being thrown a long distance. Panic reigns at Cordoba and Orizaba. Experts believe that the reactivity of the volcano Sanmiguel, which was supposed to be extinct, explains the new earthquake. In the State of Puebla, which has been devastated, the dead are officially estimated at 2,000, and scores were injured, and perished after the earthquakes, from starvation.

BRITISH ANTARCTIC AERIAL EXPEDITION.

LONDON, January 9th.
The Blackburn Kangaroo will be the aeroplane used in the projected British Antarctic Aerial Expedition, which is leaving England in July. The actual flight is to begin from Great Britain, across the great glacier and the known, but unnamed, mountains whose altitude is 12,000 feet. The machine was one of the latest fighting bombers, actually employed in November, 1918, in anti-submarine patrolling. It measures 75 feet tip to tip, and is fitted with twin engines developing 550 horse-power. It is also fitted with skis instead of wheels. It is proposed to take a crew of four, also a sledge, tent, cooking-stove, and ten weeks' provisions, of an approximate weight of 7½ cwt.

EGYPTIAN SITUATION EASER.

LONDON, January 9th.
Interviewed at Cairo, prior to his departure for the Sudan, Lord Allenby said that the situation in Egypt was easier. There was a good prospect of a satisfactory arrangement.

RACE SUICIDE PERIL.

SIR RIDER HAGGARD ON THE
TEEMING EAST.

The Imperial aspects of birth control were discussed by Sir Rider Haggard in evidence before the National Birth Rate Commission, which held its first autumn sitting at the office of the National Council of Public Morals on October 10, under the presidency of Dr. H. E. Garvie. Colonel C. J. Bond also gave evidence and the Commission then went into the report stage of its proceedings.

Sir Rider Haggard said that within the last half century it had become known that the birth-rate could be kept down by artificial means and, as in the ancient allegory: "Woman once more ate of the fruit of a forbidden tree of Knowledge, but this time it was also a Tree of Death." In short, what is called "race-suicide" began. At first this practice was confined to the upper classes, but now it seemed that it was gradually spreading through the whole community in every Western nation, and in one of them, France, was in full operation with the result that there the death-rate exceeded the birth-rate, which continued to fall.

In the educated and professional classes many causes combined to prevent increase—as was evidenced from the endless number of "only sons" killed in the late war. The maternal instinct was not highly developed in a considerable proportion of modern women, nor was the paternal instinct always strong in men. It was not right, and was never intended that civilized woman should become but a breeding machine, but he believed that, if able to do so without injury to her health, and in the absence of other special circumstances, a married woman in the course of her life should enrich the world by four or five children. The average in the classes mentioned was now but 2.13, though among the miners it rose to 3.58.

Sir Rider Haggard said that Great Britain would be a more comfortable place to live in with a population of about four millions, but what would happen to the world in the event of war? Indications were that in the home-land the population would continue to decrease, while in the Dominions overseas, without the aid of immigration, it would not at the present rate increase greatly, at least from the accretion of the British stock. With the exception of Russia and perhaps Germany—the prospects were also disquieting throughout the Western world, while even in America there was anxiety at least so far as the original stock was concerned, OVERCROWDED AND HUNGRY ASIA.

The teeming myriads in the East were ancestor worshippers and polygamous; land dwellers also. In the East every woman considered it a shame to be barren; considered it

NON-STOP COLDS.

NEW MICROBE SUSPECTED.

Doctors are almost busy treating colds as they were during the influenza epidemic.

"No doubt," said a practitioner, "people are beginning to recognise that a cold is a serious disease, but the present epidemic is peculiar and I never had so many patients."

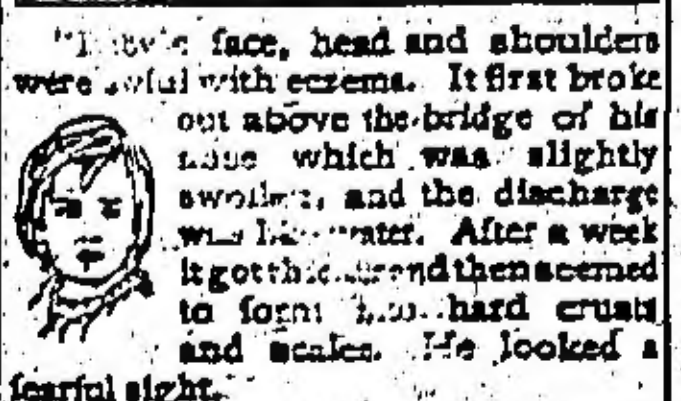

The Ministry of Health should ascertain what particular microbes are at work. Busy general practitioners have no time for bacteriological investigations. If we knew the microbes we have to deal with we might be able to make a preventive vaccine.

"Usually when a man has a cold he gets rid of it in a few days or a couple of weeks, according to his constitution, but this autumn's colds keep returning."

There must be an enormous number of disease germs in the atmosphere, and it is possible we have an entirely new microbe. People who never before suffered from sore throat now have repeated attacks. In some cases the poison goes to the stomach and causes an unpleasant form of indigestion. Mouth-breathing may be to blame for the sore throats. Women and children are the worst mouth-breathers. I would advise everyone to keep the mouth closed while the epidemic lasts.

All windows should be kept open night and day, and I would particularly impress on people making a daily journey to town the need for opening railway carriage windows. Most colds are caught in trains and other public vehicles.

"Medicines do not seem to be of much use, but I have found very successful results from inoculations of anti-cold vaccines."

Mrs. A. Willis
Tells How Cuticura
Healed Her Baby

"My face, head and shoulders were awful with eczema. It first broke out above the bridge of my nose, and the discharge was horrid. After a week I got to bed and then seemed to form a hard crust and scales. He looked a fearful sight."

"I had him treated, but it was no good. Then I was for a time out of Cuticura Soap and Ointment. I got nearly all the crusts off his head so I purchased more, and now he is completely healed." (Signed) Mrs. A. Willis, 43, Goldfield St., Port Antonio, Esq.

"Prevent these distressing skin troubles becoming serious by making Cuticura Soap, and so other your everyday necessities, and use it at once."

They are ideal for keeping the complexion fresh and clear. Hands and feet soft, hair beautiful, and skin healthy. Cuticura Soap, 25¢ per box. Cuticura Ointment, 25¢ per tin. Depot: F. Newberry & Sons, 100, Broadway, New York.

CHURCHES AS HOTBEDS OF POLITICAL PLOTS

Complaints have frequently been heard that Christian churches and mission schools have frequently been visited by detectives and disagreeably interfered with in their proceedings
by the authorities, says the Seoul Press. That many of these complaints are reasonable, we have no hesitation in saying. We know of several cases in which churches and schools standing entirely aloof from political movements, have come under the suspicion of the police and been made objects of their unpleasant attention. We are exceedingly sorry for such innocent victims. At the same time no fair-minded person can object to the authorities keeping a sharp eye over Christian institutions when, as a matter of fact, some of them are known to have been converted into hotbeds of political intrigues by their Korean members. The documents recently seized by the police, mentioned in our recent issue, show that certain members of some Korean churches are in close touch with Korean agitators abroad, and that they have been aiding by prayer and other methods their harmful activities. The documents referred to form only a small part of the great amount of evidence of similar nature now in the possession of the authorities. We happen to have at hand a letter recently written by the "Home Minister" of the so-called Provisional Government of Korea in Shanghai to Christian churches in Mokpo. In this letter occur such passages as "your faithful services to the independence movement since its beginning on March 1 shall be eternally remembered with gratitude by the State and by the nation," and "Therefore, our Government has planned a great demonstration to take place on —to indicate that the only claim of Koreans is the recognition by the world of the absolute independence of the people, who have already renounced the Japanese sovereignty and become an independent nation under the Provisional Government. Whether that demonstration succeeds or not will depend upon the efforts of you and your co-workers." In view of such evidence, none can say that all Christian institutions are innocent of political plots and should be left entirely alone
by the authorities.

As, it is needless to say, it is one of the duties of a Government to maintain peace and order in the country it governs, it is perfectly right for the Government-General of Chosen to exercise a strong control over all and any people, no matter whether they be Christian or heathen, who plot to overthrow it. As long as there are in this peninsula Christian institutions in which their members speak and act against the law, the authorities must watch them, and, in case of necessity, must close them and arrest such members as are guilty of political offences. To avert any such unpleasant consequence, it behooves all those responsible for their maintenance to eliminate and expel all bad elements and so remove the cause of suspicion on the part of the authorities. If they neglect to do so, and if, through political plots being found among the members of their institutions, the Government is compelled to take some drastic measure, or other against them, they will have nobody to blame but themselves. We believe, as we have always believed, that no foreign missionaries in this peninsula have consciously helped Korean agitators in their foolish and harmful movements, but we are afraid that many of them have been deceived by some of their Korean followers into believing that they are faithful and peaceful converts, and having nothing to do with political intrigues.
Now we believe that they have become aware that certain of their Korean followers were wolves in sheep's clothing and were abusing their confidence. In order to protect really faithful and good believers, if for no other reason, we venture to suggest to them that they carry out as soon as possible a thorough overhauling of their churches, and schools, hospitals, and other Christian institutions.

"THREE CHEERS FOR THE KAISER!"

BERLIN STORY OF GERMAN GIRL— GUERDON FOR LIFE-SAVING.

A story is told in the "Taegliche Rundschau" of one Fraulein Zaule, who saved the life of a British colonel's child who had fallen on the rails in front of an incoming train at Cologne Station.

The colonel invited her to his house
and introduced her to his officers.
Asked at table to express a wish,
she called for three cheers for the Kaiser; and the paper says her wish was fulfilled.

A guard of honour is said to have been drawn up at the station when she arrived, and British and German life-saving medals were subsequently presented to her.

ACKNOWLEDGMENT.

Mr. and Mrs. F. X. P. da Silva and family beg to tender their thanks to friends and relations for their kind expression of sympathy in their recent bereavement and for the beautiful floral tributes.

Sight of Defence Volunteers day reminded us that we made a suggestion to the members to whom the naming of the corps has been left should call it the Hongkong Volunteer Defence Corps, or Voluntary Defence Corps. When we were very young we held a shell to our ear to hear the surge of ocean. Now that we are old we have to get a microphone to hear the response of Hongkong people to good advice. What about this? It does matter, you know.

Mr. Edward S. Little is a Shanghai resident whose opinions will carry more weight than ours can on the subject of Chinese representation on the Municipal Council. He says that to repress the movement and compel the payment of taxes would have a disastrous result. He refers incidentally to "the unwise taxation of the last Ratepayers' meeting." He maintains that the request to be allowed representation is a most reasonable one. "It is a claim we cannot resist and still be true to our own political ideal," he says. The man who says "this is a Foreign Settlement and if the Chinese do not like it they can go elsewhere" is a "shallow thinker," he exactly the same line of reasoning we have no rights or status in China.

There are various ways in which one human being can impose his will upon another. There is simple bullying, and what is called the arbitrariness of war. There is bribing. There is coaxing and wheedling and deceiving. There is threatening—which is really a department of the bullying. All of them are wrong. There is no right way of doing it, because it should not be done. To secure conformity of action, when such is desired, argument and reason should be used. If it fails, the desire should be relinquished. If it succeeds, there is no question of one will overriding another, for the second will has become like the first. Yet some men love power and desire it. Why? As well ask why some men get barbaric or despotic.

At one time it was considered the duty of wisdom and pure patriotism to prepare for war, and though that might be sound, a reason frequently given for it was not. They said that peace was best secured by readiness for war. A despatch from the Austrian Ambassador at Berlin to his Minister in Vienna, dated 1914, and recently disclosed, has a passage with an unimpeachable bearing on this. "Russia," he said, "was in no way ready for war and would think seriously before appealing to force." From that we get two unreflexed lessons. One is that unreflexed promptness is thinking prior to aggression (and that is bad). The other is that preparedness prevents serious thinking (and that is bad). Recent history shows that the fully prepared were defeated by the unprepared, and are only now, in defeat, doing their serious thinking.

As we expected, our adversarial about opera has drawn our musical critic, Mr. Counterpoint. He starts off shyly, but warms up nicely when he gets going. We are delighted at the way he has proved our case for us. He says it is "quite obvious" that we cannot enjoy music because of our "constitutional makeup." Let this be a conclusive lesson, that nothing in adversarial can make the Adversarialist "quite obvious." The fact is that the Adversarialist gets drunk on good music. That is why he objects to it, adversarially. He himself is a pianist, a violinist, and a vocalist. He studied under the Professor McNaught. He (the Adversarialist) has played in an orchestra, and he is a competent musical critic. He is in a small way a composer, and has had two slight songs published in London. So much for the "quite obvious."

That was the central idea of the provocative notes, that music is a mere drug, and the Adversarialist towards opera was playing the part of a Fussyfoot. When fighting the Drink, it is usual to point to the Drunkard as an awful example. Behold friend Counterpoint, and what music (for he is a musician who boozes on music) has done for him. He writes for the China Mail and he has no use for Shakespeare. He despises the ever-glorious "Pickwick Papers." He likes point, but has a disgust for scenery. He loves a Paderewski recital, but would not listen to a lecture on English literature by the greatest living authority. It is (as he himself would say) "quite obvious" which he most needs, which would be better for him. The drunkard needs new boots—his clothes are indecent—his hair is obscene; but he craves for booze, and chooses it. Gentlemen of the Jury, we are done with this witness. Take him.

A Shanghai paper which HOW IT'S has taken sides against the Chinese desire for representation has discovered a new and important truth. It writes a letter to itself asking if the leaders of the agitation are ratepayers, and answers itself in a footnote that they are not. That is not the point. The point is whether these organizers are recognized and approved, as such, by the Chinese ratepayers. A barrister who acts in a newspaper case need not be an editor, nor (as we see) need an editor who preaches wisdom be wise.

SPECIAL CABLES.

DANGEROUS FIRE AT SHANGHAI.

[CHINA MAIL SPECIAL.]
SHANGHAI, Jan. 15. A firecracker at 30 situated behind the Town Hall was ablaze on Wednesday evening. It soon developed into a three cornered blaze, at one time threatening an extensive area. The Brigade was handicapped by frozen hydrants. The severe cold caused the water on the ground to freeze, and the firemen were slipping. There were several narrow escapes from electrocution by falling wires.

MASONIC WAR MEMORIAL.

[China Mail Special.]
SHANGHAI, Jan. 15. The district grand master of this district grand lodge of northern China will unveil a masonic war memorial in honour of local masons fallen in the war. This on January 22, at a regular meeting of the lodge.

TALENTS WASTED BY BOOZE.

[China Mail Special.]
SHANGHAI, Jan. 15. Horace Wood, a former American army officer and college graduate, was sentenced to nine months in Bilidid prison at Manila by Judge Lobingier at the American court in Shanghai. The charge was vagrancy. Wood will undergo treatment for alcoholism while in prison. He is a man of extraordinary talents, and was recently holding a good position in an American firm.

CHINA'S BIGGEST BANK.

NEW SHANGHAI QUARTERS FOR H. & S. BANK.

[CHINA MAIL SPECIAL.]

SHANGHAI, January 15. A palatial new building for the Hongkong Bank will be started in four months, and take two years for completion. It will be the largest structure in the Far East. The roof alone will be as high as the Customs Tower. The estimated cost is two million taels. The building will occupy land valued at nearly three millions. The whole work will be carried out in fire resisting materials, chiefly "reinforced" concrete, the weightier portions consisting of steel frame construction. The architects are Palmer and Turner.

A European was arrested by the Police in Pottinger Street for being drunk and incapable. He was taken to the Central Station where a charge was made out against him and he was allowed out on personal bail of $5. He failed to answer to his name when his case was called before Mr. J. R. Wood this morning, and his Worship ordered the bail to be estimated.

MUSICAL NOTES.

[By Counterpoint.]

A reader of this column has asked me when am I going to "reply" to the Adversarialist in the matter of the comments on music generally and opera in particular.

As a matter of fact, it was my intention to refrain from comment because really, there can be no conclusive argument and any amount of controversy would only leave matters precisely where they stood in the first place.

Since, however, it appears I am expected to make some sort of a statement from the music lover's point of view, I can only reiterate what has been stated time and again by authorities far more competent to deal with the matter than myself.

It is quite obvious that the Adversarialist is one of the vast majority whose constitutional make-up does not include the necessary faculties for the appreciation of good music, vocal or orchestral, therefore no amount of argument would convince him that, for some people, gesture or action, in certain circumstances is emphasized and enhanced when combined with song, provided the former is always subservient to the latter. That of course, is opera.

The reason of the unassailable attitude of the Adversarialist is the same as that which prevents me from regarding Shakespeare (read) in any other light than that of an unutterable boor, and makes me believe that if a man to-day wrote a book on the same lines as "Pickwick Papers" he would have a very difficult task in getting a firm to publish it.

It is impossible to make an individual like a thing if his natural instinct rejects it, and there should be no dictation. Some people are raised to the highest pitch of enthusiasm by things which leave others unmoved. As an instance take my own case. I have wandered through the art galleries in London for hours and hours and have been entranced by a Whistler nocturne in blue and gold but a moonlight walk through the Himalayas from Kurseong to Darjeeling has left me cold (in more senses than one) and unconvinced that the sight of the moon shining on the snow clad peaks of Kanchenjunga and the lesser "snows" is worth a six hours' midnight trudge in the rarified atmosphere of from four to seven thousand feet above sea level.

Again, I would pawn my Sunday suit (I have actually done it) to get the price of a seat at a Paderewski recital but I would not accept, with a pound of tea, a faulstul at a lecture on English literature even if delivered by the greatest living authority.

I have sat on a camp stool outside the gallery entrance to Covent Garden opera house the night long and half the next day to get a seat at the opening performance of the "Ring" but I would not give a red cent to see Aston Villa play Sunderland United.

I would play rounds of probably very indifferent golf until the cows came home but ten minutes at a cricket match gives me the pip. I have been through the Rocky Mountains on the C.P.R. in mid-winter and slept or read novels the whole time, to prevent being bored stiff by the rapturous eulogies of the "wonderful scenery."

I have been told that a Northern contemporary adversely criticised the people of Shanghai for not giving the Russian Opera Company what the writer was pleased to term "due support" during the latter part of the Company's season. Possibly the same may be said or written in Hongkong later on. But why should the people of Shanghai or Hongkong spend their dollars on opera if they don't want to listen to it. If they prefer what are to some, the bawdy banalities of Bandmann and Banvard—well it is their own money they are spending and their own desires they are saying and who has the right to dictate? Some like one thing, some like another, and some like nothing at all, and I leave it to that.

With regard to the statement that the costumes worn by the Russians in "Traviata" were out of date, here again it would be unfair to expect an individual who has no liking for opera to take the trouble to make himself or herself acquainted with the details of its production to-day. As a matter of fact, "Traviata" is applicable to any period and it is also the fact that in France, England and elsewhere the play is being staged on modern lines with modern dresses.

We would all like to see better scenery and better "props" generally, but as has been stated, the lack of them is not the fault of the Russian Opera Company. It is the fault of Hongkong. In Shanghai, there are stock "props" sufficiently adequate to stage any piece, operatic or otherwise, and Mr. Armstrong, the Artistic Director of the Lyceum Theatre, whose duty it is to keep these things up to date. What have we got in Hongkong? A dirty, draughty barn for a theatre, the

UNIVERSITY OF HONGKONG.

FOURTH CONGREGATION.

On the occasion of the Congregation at the University on Friday, January 16, 1920, Tea will be served in the Old Union Common Room of the University Building from 4.00 till 5.00 p.m. At 5.00 p.m. a procession including the honorary graduates, the members of the court council and senate of the University will enter the Great Hall. Members in this procession will assemble and robe in the Pro-Vice-Chancellor's room at 4.45 p.m.

After His Excellency The Chancellor has taken his seat and declared the Congregation open, the University anthem will be played by the band of the 2nd Battalion of the Wiltshires.

The Pro-Vice-Chancellor will then present for honorary degrees: Sir Henry May, K.C.M.G. (In Absentia) Hon. Mr. Claud Severn, C.M.G. The Dean of the Faculty of Medicine will then present for the degree of M.D., Mr. G. H. Thomas, M.B., B.S.

The graduates in medicine and engineering will then be presented by the Deans of their Faculties.

The Dean of the Faculty of Engineering will then present Mr. J. M. Jack for the degree of B.Sc. (War).

The honorary graduate will make a speech after which the Chancellor will declare the Congregation closed.

The procession will return to the Pro-Vice-Chancellor's room.

Visitors are requested to remain in their places until the procession has left the Great Hall.

LORD LEVERHULME ON PREMIUM BONDS.

Lord Leverhulme, on completing his year of office as mayor of Bolton, attended the evening service at St. George's Road Congregational Church, Bolton, recently and on the invitation of the Rev R. W. Thompson spoke on the subject of premium bonds. He condemned the proposal from the standpoint of the citizen, the State, and the Exchequer. The proposal to issue premium bonds, he said, was the erroneous idea of something for nothing, which was as great a fallacy in the economic world as was the idea of perpetual motion in the mechanical world. The only sound method of business was to add to the value of commodities by work. He considered that it was a wrong thing to issue lottery bonds while the existing laws against gambling remained unaltered. With regard to the financial position of the country, he was no pessimist and believed it was sound, but he would despair if it went forth that methods of trick finance were to be reintroduced.

acoustics of which is exceptionally bad, nothing in the way of scenery seats that give one very known kind of cramp; in fact, conditions break for people on both sides of the proscenium.

"UNLAWFULLY THROWING A CONSTABLE."

When a Chinese was this morning charged before Mr. N. L. Smith with obstructing a Chinese constable in the performance of his duty, and unlawfully throwing the said constable into the harbour, he pleaded not guilty and said he knew nothing about the affair.

The constable, C229, gave evidence and said he was on duty in the Praya at about 9.45 a.m. yesterday, when, passing the Bank Wharf opposite Pottinger Street, he saw a crowd of about ten men gambling on the wharf. He went up to them and grabbed the man with the cards. The other men then set upon him, and after the defendant had succeeded in taking witness's prisoner from him, he shoved witness from behind and precipitated him into the water. Witness said they all then ran away. The water was very deep at the spot where witness fell in. It was lucky he knew how to swim, or he would have drowned, as the small craft in the vicinity all pushed off as witness fell in to the water. Witness, despite the fact that he could swim well, had much difficulty in fighting his way back to the wharf. When he got ashore, he went straight to the Central Police station where he reported the matter and after changing his clothing, went out with several plain clothes men to search for the bad men. When they got to the wharf, he pointed the defendant out to the other men as the person who threw witness into the water. The defendant tried to run away, but witness and his colleagues closed in on him and arrested him. Witness was sure the defendant was the man who shoved him into the harbour.

The defendant said he knew nothing about the affair. He was not present when the lukung was thrown into the water. He was on his way to the market when he was arrested. His Worship: Are you aware of the seriousness of your act? The lukung would have drowned if he had not known how to swim—I did not shove him.

His Worship: Do you know that if the lukung had not known how to swim and had been drowned, you could have been charged with murder?—If he did not know how to swim, he could receive assistance from the people about.

The Police said that when taken to the station yesterday and charged, he denied that he was the man but said he could point out the man who shoved the constable into the water. When asked to go out and find the man however, he refused.

His Worship said that there was no doubt that the defendant knew more about the affair than he alleged he did, and sentenced him to a fine of $250, or, in default, six months' hard labour.

BANKRUPTCY COURT.

The Puisne Judge, Mr. Justice Gompertz, sat in Bankruptcy Court this morning.

H. I. Xavier made application for his discharge. The Official Receiver (Mr. Lloyd) said the application was adjourned from last bankruptcy day in order that the applicant might appear in person. He had paid regular instalments and had paid off 53 per cent of his liabilities. His bankruptcy was mainly due to his guaranteeing loans for his relations.

His Lordship said he had much pleasure in granting Mr. Xavier his discharge.

Mr. C. F. Mason appeared for the petitioning creditor in the matter of Chan Yick Lun, trading at Ying Mau. The assets were about $6,700 and the liabilities $24,000.

The Official Receiver said he thought the petitioning creditor should produce the promissory note on which he said money was due.

His Lordship made a receiving order subject to the affidavit being amended to this effect.

In the matter of the Po Hang Bank and Tam Hang and Tam Kok, two partners therein, the Official Receiver applied for the removal of Chu Yik as joint trustee.

His Lordship granted the application.

C. V. Carlos appeared for his public examination and replying to the Official Receiver, said he put in a petition in 1916, when his liabilities were $800, mainly due to money lenders. The cause of his bankruptcy was personal sickness.

The Official Receiver asked if he had ever given any other cause for his bankruptcy and, on debtor saying he could not remember, asked "Did you ever go to Macao?"

Debtor: Yes, I went there and tried to make some money but lost.

Answering further questions debtor said he was now paying the Official Receiver instalments of $10 a month. The examination was closed.

HONGKONG SCHOOLS
FOOTBALL ASSOCIATION.ST. JOSEPH'S WIN SENIOR SHIELD.

H.E. THE GOVERNOR OFFERS A CUP.

There was a large gathering of football enthusiasts present on the Queen's College ground, Causeway Bay, yesterday afternoon, to watch the final of the Hongkong Schools' Junior League between Wanchai School and Queen's College. H.E. the Governor was amongst those present and evinced much interest in the game.

The match commenced at 3 p.m. with Mr. F. W. Black in charge of the whistle. The teams were very evenly matched and the game opened very fast and interesting. After simultaneous attacks by either side, Queen's secured a goal by a bit of tricky play among the forwards. Despite the fact that Wanchai tried hard to equalize, no other goals were scored in the first half, and at half time, Queen's was leading by one goal to nil.

In the second moiety, Wanchai played improved football and by means of continuous onrushes, they succeeded in at last getting the defence of its guard, and equalized. After this, both sides made strenuous efforts to get the winning goal, but when the final whistle came, the result was a draw. Despite the fact that extra time was played, neither side could get any advantage over the other, and it was ultimately decided to replay the final at some future date.

The final match was followed by an exhibition match between St. Joseph's College, the winners of the Senior Shield, and a team picked from the rest of the league. This game was also very interesting, but it was quite evident that St. Joseph's was the superior team. They combined well, and it was with difficulty that the opposing backs managed to cope up with their onrushes. The only goal of the match came in the first half, when Rahmin was placed in possession and after a good run down the left wing, he passed to Ismail who in turn transferred the ball to S. Rumi, and the latter scored without much difficulty. The game was very even at the resumption of the match after the half time. Both sides made frequent attacks but failed to convert. At the final whistle, St. Joseph's were the winners by the only goal of the match.

At the conclusion of the game, Mr. J. Ralston, the Hon. Secretary of the Association, in calling upon His Excellency to distribute the shield and the medals, stated that the season had been an interesting and successful one. Unfortunately the final of the Junior Division match was not completed and would have to be re-played. In the Senior League St. Joseph's had come through unbeaten. (Applause.) They had thus won the football shield and the gold medals. The cup presented by the Hon. Mr. E. D. C. Wolfe, in 1907, for competition among the Government District Schools was won, for the third time in succession, by Wanchai, who thus became the owners of it. (Applause.) Their record had been excellent during the present season. In the competition for the Government District Schools they had secured 22 points and not a single goal had been scored against them. As regards next season's football, they would have the junior, senior, and intermediate league thus enabling every school-boy to have a game on Wednesday afternoons. A cup for the intermediate league had been given to the Association by the Hongkong Football Club. The Club had a cup to spare, a duplicate of the one presented by Mr. David Landale, and this they generously offered to the Schools. (Applause.)

H.E. the Governor, addressing those present, stated that he was very pleased to find football in such a flourishing condition among the schools. He thought all would agree with him, especially those who had played football in their school days, that there was not a finer game than football, because it gave everyone an equal chance and aroused a great deal of enthusiasm and skill. He was sorry he had not come in time for the first match, and hoped to have the opportunity of witnessing the replay. His Excellency next handed the shield, cup and medals to the respective winners.

Mr. Ralston announced that His Excellency had offered a cup to replace the Wolfe Cup, and the announcement was greeted with applause.

UNITED SERVICES' LEAGUE.

AMBROSE "A" 2; AMBROSE
"B" 1.

The competition in connection with the United Services' League was commenced at the Happy Valley yesterday afternoon, when the "Ambrose" "A" team met and defeated the "Ambrose" "B" team by 2 goals to 1. According to the official fixture lists, the Wilts were to have met the R.G.A. on the Military ground, but for some unknown reason this match did not take place.

Yesterday's match opened slowly and it took the players fully ten minutes to warm up. Both ends were

CHINESE TELEGRAMS.

(By arrangement with Wai Tsz Yat Po.)

SHANGHAI, Jan. 14.
Foo Ngok Fan, the Vice-Minister of Education, who has had a great deal of trouble with the students, now intends to resign.

Wong Yap Tong has expressed his intention to resign the chief peace delegateship. The opening of the peace conference looks more hopeless than ever.

General Pau Kwai Hing telegraphed the Peking Government that he intends to take a neutral attitude towards the Bolsheviks. Should the Bolsheviks invade Chinese territory he will stop them by force. The Cabinet concurs in his views.

A telegram from the Northern frontier says that the Bolsheviks are now penetrating Chinese territories and that both the North and South military officers be notified of such penetration.

The Minister of Finance seeing that there is no possibility of securing a loan from the Bank Group, is trying to negotiate elsewhere.

Wong Ching Ting, the peace delegate returning from Europe, in his telegraphic reply to the Peking Government, which ordered him to go straightway North, says that he must pay a visit to Canton first.

President Chu Sai Cheong intends to give a full explanation of the latest concessions made by the Peking Government in connection with the peace negotiations. This action so taken by the Government is to show that the North is sincere towards peace.

VICTORIA THEATRE.

To S...
With heartfelt sorrow, allow me to sing
To you, Sir, the song of a theatre-goer,
A melody that our regret will bring
For the going down of the Victoria Theatre.

What would Hongkong be without the Victoria Theatre.

One of the most magnificent buildings on the Hongkong shore?
And then what about the theatre-goer who at this moment with hope to you sings

The song of cinema lovers?
We implore that you should preserve

That superb, decent place of entertainment.

And we wish that you should reserve
In your heart, a feeling that will content
The cinema lovers."

—ESANIP.

Hongkong, Jan. 14.

visited in quick succession, but no goals were scored, owing to bad shooting. After a while, the game settled down to a ding-dong struggle at mid-field. The half time came with the score sheet blank.

Play became faster in the second moiety, with "A" pressing from the centre. After a couple of misses, they forced a corner, and this was beautifully taken by the extreme left and placed in the goal-mouth. Downs rushed in and headed the ball into the net for "A's" first goal. This side's second goal came soon afterwards, Jarvis netting from a beautiful pass from the inside right. There were cries of "off-side" from the touch line when Jarvis got the ball, but the referee thought otherwise and allowed a goal. "B" attacked most strenuously after this and soon Neville scored their first goal. After this there was no stopping "B" who played like men possessed and kept the ball in "A's" territory for the rest of the match, but were unfortunately unable to score again. "A" thus won by the odd goal in three.

WEDDING.

MURDOCH-HAYMAN.

The wedding took place, this morning, at St. John's Cathedral, the Rev. V. H. Copley Moyle officiating, of Miss Mildred Mary Hayman, of Bournemouth, to Mr. Arthur Murdoch, of Jardines. The bride, who was dressed in a white gown with a white net veil, was given away by Mr. C. G. Alabaster, O.B.E., cousin of the bride and Mrs. J. Johnstone acted as matron of honour, whilst Mr. K. de C. Longmire acted as best man. At the conclusion of the ceremony the happy couple left the Cathedral to the strains of the Wedding March, played by Mr. J. W. White. A photograph was taken at the door of the Church. The honeymoon will be spent at Cheungchow and Fanning.

OUT OF THE FRYING-PAN.

When Asquith held the foremost place.

We mocked his famous "Wait and see!"

Then for a four years' dreadful space
On land we watched our fate—and sea.

We conquered: rare refreshing fruit
Our rulers bade us taste and see:
But, oh! a rift within the lute,
Is not their meaning "Waste and see?"

TEN MILLIONAIRES
A YEAR.

GERMANY'S PRIZE LOTTERY.

Germany is offering to create 10 new millionaires yearly for the next 80 years in order to raise money for the nation. That, in brief, is the astounding attraction offered in her new lottery loan, the most gigantic thing of its kind the world has ever seen. The loan is to be one of 5,000,000,000 marks.

Application lists were to be opened in the beginning of November, subscriptions being payable one-half in German 5 per cent. war loan and one-half in cash, and 5,000,000 certificates of 1,000 marks each will be issued. Eighty years is to be the period of the loan with yearly drawings, 3,000,000 marks being drawn for payment in the first 40 years.

A TWO TO ONE CHANCE.

This is certainly something to be going on with, but there is still a two to one chance which offers tempting prizes. Drawings, as said already, take place yearly, (except the lottery drawings,) capital and accrued interest being then repaid, but every second certificate drawn for repayment receives in addition the very considerable bonus of 1,000 marks if drawn during the first 30 years, 2,000 marks if drawn during the ensuing 10 years, 4,000 marks if drawn during the ensuing 40 years.

Altogether, 58 per cent. of the certificates issued can receive prizes and bonus (apart from interest bonus), while the total prize money distributed during the 80 years' currency of the loan will be for lottery drawings 4,000,000,000 marks and for bonus on every second certificate drawn 5,875,000,000 marks.

When the issue is 20 years old, subscribers can demand repayment from the Government and the amount will be repaid at the end of the year at its nominal value plus accrued interest, but under a discount of 10 per cent.

RIDING TO CABLES

Captain T. A. Kyle, relating the experiences of the s.s. "Shunchoang" of which ship he was in command during the gales at the latter end of December, states: "We left Shanghai for Chinwangtao on December 28 with sufficient coal in the bunkers for the passage and two days to spare. The vessel was light and had no water ballast on board, but all went well until the evening of the 28th when it suddenly came on to blow hard from the north-west and soon there was a high sea running. "The ship became in an hour or two quite unmanageable and could be brought no nearer to the wind than seven points, which, to say the least, was an unenviable position to be in. Thinking at first that as the storm came on so suddenly it might not last long, I ran before it dead slow, but, do what we could we could not get over the ground more than about five knots. The next morning the gale had increased to tremendous force and the hail and snow had set in with unremitting fury which lasted for another two days. "The chief engineer reported later, that the coal on board would not last until we reached our port of destination and it was problematical if we could manage to get to the wharf among the ice even if we reached there, the vessel being rather poorly found, etc., and the gale showing no signs of abating. So I resolved to run for Shanghai. "I rang full speed and told the chief engineer to give her all he could, but, owing to the light condition the ship was in, and the awful sea that was running, the racing of the propeller and the heavy rolling of the ship, we could not head up where it was the westward than S. by W. and we made a true S. by E. course, about. "We then got blown over to the Korea Coast in our helpless condition and must have passed fifteen miles off the Socotra Rock. It was an extremely anxious time for all of us as we may well be imagined. There was no sleep or rest for anyone for forty-eight hours. When getting in about the latitude of the Saddle I went dead slow again with the hope that the storm would blow itself out. We then had only about one day's supply of coal on board. By noon we got a position 130 miles east of the Saddle. If anything, the gale then started to get worse and to keep on was to get cast away in the middle of the Eastern Sea. We sounded and got thirty fathoms of water upon which I decided to put the cables on the bottom which we did. We hove them out to the clench, one at a time, and after a while the ship rode to them beautifully. But, as the ship came down and up with the swell of the tremendous sea, I feared the windlass would be torn out of the ship. To ease the strain on the cables we then rigged up springs comprised of gun tackle purchases, iron snatch blocks and gins, etc., and led the 100,000 MOTOR-CARS EVERY YEAR.

A SIX MILLION FIRM TO PRODUCE CHEAPLY.

PROFIT-SHARING PLAN.

Details of a gigantic motor amalgamation, which aims at the production of 100,000 cheap cars yearly, and in which the employees will have a profit sharing interest, were given by Mr. H. J. Whitcomb, the chairman of directors.

The new corporation will be known as Harper, Bean, Ltd., and associated with it are such well-known firms as Macfield's Ltd.; Harper, Sons and Bean, Ltd.; Vulcan Engineering Co., Ltd.; Swift, Ltd.; British Motor Trading Corporation, Ltd.; Harvey-Frost Co.; and the Birmingham Aluminium Co.

The capital involved is £5,000,000. Mr. Whitcomb rejects the description of "combine" for the organisation, since it suggests a trust and control of prices at a high standard. "That is the point against which in this amalgamation," he explained, "the whole energies, intentions and principles of the directorate will be firmly concentrated."

"It is estimated that not less than two years must elapse before our ideal magnitude of production can be achieved and we can enter upon our projected programme of units for 100,000 motor-vehicles."

"Thus we shall start with a completion of only 50 cars per week in January, and increase this number gradually until we expect to complete:

By July 1920 300 per week.
By Dec., 1920 600 per week.
By July 1923 2,000 per week.

"Our programme does not include the high-priced vehicles, but the car for the multitude—50,000 of one type (the small car), 25,000 of the medium car, and 25,000 of the commercial vehicle—three types only."

Provision has been made to give our employees a real and tangible interest in the results in the form of 500,000 fully-paid ordinary shares, to be held by trustees on behalf of the employees as a whole, for the purpose of a benevolent fund for them and their dependents."

falls off through the alleyways. Also we put the three fold life-boat purchases on them and led the falls to the after windlass."

"The fore-deck winches were utilized to set up wires as a support to the windlass ends as the forecastle deck was lifting. We then managed to ride out the gale safely and eventually got back to Shanghai on the evening of December 31 without any serious damage to the ship. This is the second time in eight years that I have saved the lives of all on board or, at least from being cast away, by the use of the cables."

COST OF LIVING AT HOME.

800 PER CENT. UP ALL ROUND.

Both letters and newspapers from abroad indicate that the Englishman who has been away from the home land for the last one or two years possesses a very vague idea of what the cost of living really is. It is such a commonplace, of course, here that the newspapers rarely refer to it—everybody knows that a small loaf costs 4d. and a quart of milk 11d., so why labour that point? And it is seemingly beneath the dignity of Reuter to wire out that butter is rationed and that the individual allowance per day is just the weight of a Mexican 20-cent piece.

Seven shillings would purchase in the Spring of 1914 as many of the necessities and the small luxuries of normal civilised life as one pound will purchase to-day.

Seeing that this statement is flatly at variance with the Government estimate, a house-keeping account for one week in 1914 is printed below with the present prices for the same quantities in a parallel column.

The present estimate of the Government is somewhere between 125, and 145 per cent. increase in the cost of living to-day compared with 1914, the fact of the case being that the increase is nearly 200 per cent. when the all round cost of living is taken into consideration and not a few selected necessities.

The family, whose weekly house-keeping bill we have here, consisted of four persons, three adults and an eight-year-old child. As may be seen, they had plenty of plain substantial food. To abbreviate what otherwise would have been a very long list, about eighteenth century of small items, polishers, condiments, and similar trifles, have not been included, but the advance in cost of these articles is about the same as in those that are given.

Article	1914	1919
7 quarts Milk	2 0	6 5
3 cwt Coal	2 4	7 0
4 lb Mutton	2 4	6 8
2 lb Beef Steak	1 8	4 0
2 lb Beef	1 10	4 7
1 lb Rabbit	0 10	2 5
8 Herrings	0 4	1 3
4 lb Cod	1 4	4 8
2 lb Plaice	0 10	2 8
2 lb Bacon	2 1	6 9
10 loaves Bread	1 8	3 9
3 lb Self-raising flour	0 4	0 10
5 lb Sugar	0 10	3 4
1 lb Tea	1 6	3 4
4 lb Cocoa	0 4	0 9
14 lb Potatoes	0 7	2 4
14 lb Cabbages, carrots, etc.	0 8	2 0
3 lb Onions	0 3	0 10
3 lb Margarine	1 6	3 9
1 lb Lard	0 8	2 0
3 lb Suet	0 3	0 10
1 lb Cheese	0 8	1 8
2 lb Jam	0 7	2 0
12 Eggs	1 6	5 0
2 1/2 lb Soap	0 10	2 3
1 lb Butter	1 4	2 6
1 lb Rice	0 2	0 8

2 lb Currants	0 8	2 8
and Raisins	0 9	1 6
Gas	0 9	1 6
Total	29 3	89 1

It will be seen by this list that the cost of nearly everything now is three times as much as in 1914 and in some cases even more. Bread hasn't advanced so much because of the Government subsidy, but as the subsidy is now threatened the price may soon go up very considerably.

Margarine is another item that has not advanced as other articles have, but it does not contain the fat it used to do, and housewives complain that it is now no substitute for lard. Butter has not gone up quite 100 per cent. but seeing that there is only a ration of 12 oz. per head each week that does not appreciably lighten a present day house-keeping account.

There are two items that our housewife has not included in her list, apples and pears, which can be bought to-day at a pre-war price, three pence to sixpence a pound, owing to the phenomenally good crop this year.

Butter, sugar and meat are the only foodstuffs the quantity of which is rationed to each consumer to-day. 1 1/2 oz. of butter, 8 oz. of sugar and 2/- worth of butcher's meat.

People use more jam to make their bread and margarine palatable, put saccharine tablets in their tea to save the sugar for cooking, and use tinned meats and poultry more largely to make up for rationed meat, but these substitutes being more expensive, the cost of house-keeping goes up proportionately.

With the exception of these three necessities there is plenty of everything for those who have money to buy it, except whisky, so those twin evils of the past, shortage, hoarding and food queues, are almost forgotten. Whisky is still very scarce and a doctor's note is usually necessary should one want a bottle; brandy is easy to get at 25/- a bottle, and beer is plentiful in quantity if somewhat thin in quality.

Train fares have rarely advanced more than 25 per cent. and train fares are only up 50 per cent. which is comparatively little compared with other increases.

In very few towns where the rates have largely increased has more than 20 per cent. been added to the rent of a £52 for (less) house, and in many cases the rent of these small houses has not advanced even 5 per cent. owing to the Rent Restriction Act, which has up till now protected the tenant from any charge above that incurred by the landlord for repairs and extra rates. These lesser compensations, however, are more than counter-balanced when we consider the next series of items on the cost of living, clothes and hardware, and in any true estimate of the cost of living these must be taken into account.

A family may ignore the renewal of clothes for a period of six months or less should prices during that time be abnormal; but if prices remain abnormal, and clothes and boots wear out, the abnormal prices will have to be paid and reckoned in the cost of living; and if the period of high and exorbitant prices is maintained for years, as it has been, then all sorts of essentials in a home, towels, sheets, blankets, curtains, oilcloth, brushes and crockery, will require renewing, and have to be charged in the cost of living. Here is a list of prices for some items of a man's clothing to-day compared with prices for the same articles prior to the war:

	1914	1919
Suit	£ 50	£ 130
Union Shirt	0 3 6	0 13 6
Socks	0 1 0	0 5 0
Boots	0 10 6	1 18 6
Woolen Vests	0 4 6	0 17 6
Cap	0 1 6	0 6 0
Total	£ 53 6 0	£ 110 6

Women's clothes and boots have advanced in almost exactly the same proportion and children's outfits are in comparison even more expensive.

Now we come to hardware and household necessities. It is impossible to make a full list but the following items are amongst the more important and cannot be done without:

	1914	1919
Cups and saucers	0 3 1 0	0 3 1 0
Saucepan	0 3 1 0	0 3 1 0
Bucket	0 3 1 0	0 3 1 0
Dinner Plate	0 3 1 0	0 3 1 0
Curtains (pair)	4 6 13 6	4 6 13 6
Sheets (pair)	6 6 22 0	6 6 22 0
Woolen Blankets (pr)	15 0 56 0	15 0 56 0
Towels	0 9 2 0	0 9 2 0
Linoleum	2 11 9 11	2 11 9 11
Brush sweeping	0 9 3 0	0 9 3 0
Bresh scrubbing	0 4 1 3	0 4 1 3
Glass Tumblers (doz.)	1 0 10 0	1 0 10 0
Alarm Clocks	2 6 15 0	2 6 15 0
Total	32 9 143 8	32 9 143 8

Unfortunately the tendency is for prices to go up even higher than those we have quoted, while in furniture prices are so exorbitant that it seems incredible they should remain at their present figures.

If it is thought that the cost of living has been broadened to embrace too many items in this little article, it might be as well to analyse a brief list of articles printed as an advertisement to prove a reduction in prices by a famous store in a Socialist daily paper. This enterprising firm thought apparently that it might do something to stem the rising flood of discontent among the proletariat by showing how prices were coming down since this time last year when the Armistice was signed.

It titled its half-page advertisement "Evidence that the cost of living is going down at Selfridge's," and gave a list of 250 items "chosen at random throughout the store." A study of the 250 items, the cost of which in 1918 was £210 9s. 5, and to-day is only £177 3s. 4d. must have made amusing reading for the wage-earning classes who chiefly buy the paper. Should you want for instance

THE CHINA MAIL'S BUSINESS.

TO GET YOU THE NEWS.

Rumours are current that the Victoria Theatre is to be pulled down and that Mr. M. J. Stephens the landlord contemplates building Chinese flats on the site. It is understood, however, that an attempt will be made to secure a renewal of the lease by the people interested in the Victoria Theatre.

The following conversation tells its own amusing story—

The editor of the China Mail, hearing that the Victoria Theatre was likely to be pulled down, deputised a reporter to interview Mr. Stephens, the landlord, with a view to securing confirmation of the report. The following conversation took place—

Reporter: Good morning, sir. I represent the China Mail and have been instructed to ask you whether you would be good enough to supply me with information with regard to the Victoria Theatre. The editor understands that the building is to be pulled down.

Mr. Stephens: What has that got to do with you?

Reporter: Nothing whatever, sir. I am acting under instructions from my employers.

Mr. Stephens: Don't come here asking me for information. What has it got to do with the China Mail? You had better be very careful what you say. Why can't people keep things private if they want to?

Reporter: Quite so, sir. I merely came for confirmation or denial of a rumour prevalent round town. I will inform my editor that you decline to make any statement.

Mr. Stephens: I did not say so. You had better be very careful what you are about. Don't come here asking for information.

Reporter: Very good, sir. I will inform my editor of what you say.

Mr. Stephens: Don't come here asking for information. Be very careful what you say.

Reporter: Very good, sir. Good morning.

No response.

A blue serge suit made to measure it will cost you £9, 13s. to-day, compared with last year's price which was £7 13s., but you can compensate yourself with the thought that though a Japanese screen cost £4 4s. in 1918, to-day you can buy one for only £2 12s. 6d.

What working man will grudge 16/6 to-day for a union shirt which according to the advertisement was 13/6 last year, if he can buy a tortoise shell cigarette for 30/- compared with the old price of £2; and though men's overcoats, socks, macintoshes, umbrellas and woolen scarves have all gone up in price since 1918 he can still buy a "dainty coloured, China puff bowl," or an "evening frock with silk net over lap silk trimming" for less than they cost in 1918.

Turning to provisions in the same advertisement, household soap, soda and lard, have all gone up, an advance however more than counter-balanced by the fall in tinned peaches, spaghetti, and custard powder, and at the "Bargain Counter" one can easily make up the advance in the price of a boy's overcoat, by buying a yard of lace edging fallen from 8/11 to 2/- in one fell swoop.

How wages have advanced to meet these increased costs would take too long to detail here. Suffice it to say that the average wage of a skilled artisan to-day is roughly about 83/- for a 48-hour week, miners and builders get much more, workers in luxury trades get much less. For a labourer it will be 50/- to 58/- according to the occupation and degree of skill, for instance a labourer trucking stuff about in a factory will get the lower figure, and a bricklayer's labourer the higher.

Very high wages are usually the result of overtime at increased rates, and cannot be maintained for any length of time without injury to health.

Enough, however, has been said to break the news gently to the joyful home-comer that things are not what may be expected a year or more after the war has ended. With exchange at 8/- to the pound, however, one is about as well off as in 1913 or 1914, with the exception of the rationed items and the lack of travelling facilities.
